

NATIONAL FIRST RESPONDER COVID-19 GRANT RELIEF PROGRAM

#HereForYou

ABOUT

The National First Responder COVID-19 Grant Relief Program has been established to provide financial support to first responders and their families in need during the current COVID-19 pandemic. This program provides first responders an opportunity to request a micro-grant to reimburse select expenses related to COVID-19, such as mental health and wellness costs, (i.e. counseling services, suicide prevention), unanticipated dependent care, disinfecting services, and similar costs. These micro-grants may be awarded in an amount up to $1,000. We hope this program can make a difference for thousands of first responders across the country—providing them a place to turn to for support during these very challenging times. Together, we are #HereForYou.

(This program is not being shared via social media at this time.)
